Lead-Safe Renovation Rules - FAQs

It is what you don't know that could harm you. This is the premise of the standard for training and lead abatement under the newly adopted Federal regulations. This new standard of law is one of the more significant regulatory measures to hit our industry in years. Come to the meeting and learn the new rules of the "who, what and how" and its impact on your company's safety culture. MBI professional safety staff will also address training programs for members on compliance and successful regulatory compliance. Don't miss this session and make sure to bring all company personnel that will be affected by this new law.

OSHA Enforcement Activity

OSHA inspections and citations are dramatically on the rise in Iowa. Iowa OSHA is incentivized by much more stringent enforcement mandates from the Obama Administration, allowing the Department of Labor to focus on construction jobsites at a rate not seen for decades. This is more than just rhetoric, in that Iowa OSHA field enforcement staff numbers have increased substantially in the last 24 months due to a much greater funding support by federal and state governments. It is critical that MBI members understand the dynamics behind the changes, what is driving greater enforcement efforts, and most importantly, how to prepare and be proactive. Learn how to use the valuable resources of MBI to increase compliance performance in this critical area of your operation. All those involved in safety are invited. Safety pays or safety costs . . . your choice.

Increased Enforcement - Contractor Registration Compliance

Did you know that the Iowa Labor Commissioner has been given increased authority to enforce Iowa Contractor Registration laws in Iowa? Did you know how the State of Iowa is going about it? Did you know that inspectors are showing up at jobsites all over Iowa with questions about the contractors on the jobsite, including information on independent contractors and immigration? The enforcement power has been expanded to conduct investigations about contractors on your jobsite and owners are being asked to provide authorities company information previously considered to be intrusive. If you don't attend you may miss out on what is happening throughout the state and what your rights and responsibilities are if you are confronted with this inspection.

Enjoy lunch and an informative presentation over your lunch hour!

All meetings will be held 12:00 - 1:00 pm.

Post Legislative Session Review

This past legislative session saw another fight to thwart anti-construction and anti-business legislative proposals. Come listen and learn about the good, the bad and the ugly. Equally important is to learn what did not pass and the role your association played to avoid issues that would have negatively impacted the business and construction environment. It is good listening and learning for all in your company.

Health Care Plans

Health care is the subject of the day, especially with the passage of the new federal health care reform legislation. While the bureaucrats, lawyers and insurance companies figure out the 2,700 page bill, MBI is pushing forward with ideas and options that members can implement immediately to reduce health care expense and improve the health of employees. Representatives of Bearence Management Group will be on hand to give the down and dirty on moving forward and staying ahead of the tidal wave of change coming your way. All HR personnel, including top management, should make themselves available for this discussion.

Find A Construction Professional

How can your company communicate and market its corporate capabilities to owners, design professionals and construction professionals? MBI's Green Book of Construction Professionals has become the industry standard in Iowa, and elsewhere, for putting our members in public view. We are presenting the change from the previous hard bound copy edition to the new electronic format . . . searchable and simple. This is a core benefit of membership and you won't want to miss this opportunity to understand how it works to benefit your company. Marketing and business development staff can benefit and learn and provide feedback on this new marketing tool.
